

JURORS REFUSE
ACTION AGAINST
ANDREW MELLON

Administration's Attack on ex-Cabinet
Man Fails

BULLETIN
Washington, May 8.—(AP)—Attorney General Cummings said today there would be no further criminal proceedings against Andrew W. Mellon in connection with the present income tax case.

Pittsburgh, May 8.—(AP)—A grand jury which heard evidence in the Andrew W. Mellon tax case refused to indict the former Secretary of the Treasury today.

The government had presented charges that the internationally known banker underpaid his income taxes in 1931. Mellon himself in a statement last Friday disclosed the government was seeking to collect approximately $2,000,000 from him. He had charged the action was a move to discredit him and the three Presidential administrations he had served.

Mellon, 79 years old and one of the country's wealthiest men, said he actually had overpaid his 1931 income tax.

The jury reported its findings this morning to Federal Judge R. M. Gibson.

Five witnesses were heard by the grand jury in a five hour session yesterday. They were Robert H. McGure and Donald Banks of the Pittsburgh Internal Revenue office; Lee R. Pennington of the Department of Justice at Washington; C. R. Korb, vice president of the Union Trust Company and H. A. Phillips of the Mellon National Bank.

The jury deliberated an hour and a half late yesterday after hearing the witnesses and scanning bulky files of documents and records. Its report this morning came immediately after the group reassembled for sessions at which other cases on its routine are to be considered.

Mellon Pleased
Informed of the jury's action Mellon said:

"I am, of course, gratified that I have been exonerated by a jury of my fellow-citizens. The fact that the grand jury reached a sound conclusion, notwithstanding the unusual methods pursued in my case, is proof of the good sense and fairness of the American people."

The noted banker went about his usual duties throughout the day.

William Daum of Steward Named on Board of Review

William Daum of Steward was today named a member of the Lee County Board of Review by Judge Leach in the county court. Mr. Daum will fill the place of Joseph Roessler of Ashton who has completed his term as the Democratic member of the board. The new member is well known throughout Lee county and for a number of years has conducted a plumbing business in Steward. He is well qualified to fill the position having been closely in touch with tax matters for a number of years. John Finn of Marion township, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, and Mark D. Smith of this city will be the other two members of the board, the latter having been appointed one year ago.

DEMOCRATS IN HOUSE HOPE TO PASS STATE NRA

Recess Until 4 P. M. to Await Their Absent Supporters

Springfield, Ill., May 8.—(AP)—After Governor Horner and Democratic legislative leaders expressed confidence today that the state NRA enforcement bill would pass, the House of Representatives recessed until 4 P. M. because the necessary 77 votes were not on hand.

The House met briefly just before noon and immediately recessed. Additional support for the bill was expected to accumulate during the afternoon.

Democratic spokesmen said that 76 of their 78 representatives would be in Springfield to vote on the bill, the other two being ill. Only one Democrat is expected to join the Republican opposition when the long-delayed roll call is taken.

That would require the support of two Republicans to send the bill to the Senate. Democrats were confident the two Republican votes could be obtained.

FOUR AIR MAIL
ROUTES BACK IN PRIVATE FLYING

Removal of Others from Army Operation Expected Shortly

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Flying of the airmail was resumed today by commercial planes.

Over four routes private airlines relieved the Army of the mail carrying, and postal officials said at Washington that other routes would be surrendered to commercial ships within the next few days under the contracts awarded last week.

A United Air Line plane left Newark at 12:15 A. M., C. S. T. for Oakland, Calif., with the first bags of airmail touched by a private line since Postmaster General Farley's order cancelling contracts became effective February 19.

The plane carried 1,200 pounds of mail and six passengers. Pilot Robert Dawson was at the controls. At Cleveland he was relieved by Pilot R. E. Coulter.

Other routes over which the airmail moved once more in commercial ships were between Seattle and San Diego, Salt Lake City and Seattle, and Salt Lake City and San Diego.

A United Air Line plane left Salt Lake City for Seattle at 3:57 A. M., with a cargo of mail and five passengers and five minutes later another ship left the Utah City for San Diego.

As a parting gesture in completing its mail flying, the Army Air Corps carried out a 2,732-mile flight from Oakland to Newark yesterday in what it claimed was a record time for the northern transcontinental route. The flight was made in 14 hours, 8 minutes.

A similar flight was made by Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc., over the southern route from Los Angeles to Newark just before the mail carrying job was taken from private lines. This flight was made in 13 hours, 5 minutes. However, the route flown by the Army was 279 miles longer.

GERMAN POTASH
MINE IS TOMB
OF 87 WORKERS

Baden Village Thrown Into Sorrow, Suspense by Blast

Buggingen, Baden, Germany, May 8.—(AP)—A flaming shaft of the Buggingen potash mine formed a temporary crypt today for 87 trapped miners, throwing this village into sorrow and suspense.

With the shaft hermetically sealed because of fire and gas hazards, the blocked entrance must be regarded as a tombstone for two weeks while the blaze burns itself out. Search for the bodies can not begin until it is safe to open the shaft.

To the sealed entrance children and widows of the victims took tear-stained floral offerings and prayers.

That the workers met swift death from rapidly-spreading carbon monoxide fumes after the mine timbers collapsed yesterday, short-circuiting the electric system, is regarded as a fact.

Insull's Long Wanderings
Ended in Cook County Jail;
Unable to Furnish Big Bond

Aged Man a Tragic
$200,000 Fixed

Chicago, May 8.—(AP)—Samuel Insull, a tragic figure, was placed under $200,000 bond by a Federal Judge today and unable to furnish it, was led away to jail.

Eyes brimming with tears, steps lagging, he trudged silently between his guards to be locked up a prisoner in the city where he had risen to greatness among the financial and utilities potentates of the land.

Shortly after 1 o'clock, five hours from the moment of his arrival by train from the east, Insull was dressed in at the county jail and assigned to the hospital.

Long Wandering Ends
Thirteen thousand miles of harried wandering across Europe, the Mediterranean and the Atlantic had brought him at last to the bar of justice.

Crowds gaped at him in the station. He faced them impassively. At the United States Marshal's office he heard the charges read: use of the mails fraudulently, and violation of the bankruptcy act. He collapsed, his heart overtaxed by the physical and emotional strain.

Was Fingerprinted
He was fingerprinted, then led before a judge.

U. S. District Attorney Dwight H. Green demanded $200,000 bond, the government, he related, had spent a vast sum chasing this elderly gentleman around the hemisphere and wanted assurance he would be on hand for trial.

"This means he will be compelled to go to jail," protested Floyd E. Thompson, former Chief Justice of the Illinois Supreme Court, defender of Insull.

"If the government thinks we are bluffing, the government will find it is mistaken. We cannot raise this amount."

"When John Factor was held for removal to England recently, the government only placed him under $50,000 bond."

Judge Barnes listened briefly to the arguments of Green and the defender.

Mind Made Up
"The only question before the court," the jurist said, "is the amount of bail which would reasonably assure the presence of this defendant at his trial."

"The question as to how much money or property a man has, has nothing to do with the amount of bail. Under the circumstances I am of the opinion that the suggestion of the government is not excessive."

Insull, to whom thousands were once pally, sagged in his chair. Thompson pleaded again but the court had decided.

"That is my best judgment," Judge Barnes concluded, and rising, withdrew into his chambers. Deputy Marshals assisted the broken man to his feet, marched off with him to the office of U. S. Marshal H. C. W. Laubenstein where only an hour before Insull had been delivered into his custody by Burton F. Berry, the President's messenger, who had brought him from Istanbul.

"What can we do?" cried Samuel Insull, Jr., as he accompanied his father from the courtroom.

Resigned to Jail
"Father will have to submit to incarceration," he said. "We cannot make the bond."

A physician and old friend, Dr. Arthur Elliott, joined them in the Marshal's office while officials were determining to what jail Insull must be sent.

Young Insull, once the partner of his father in directing the three billion dollar utilities empire that stretched from Maine to Texas, said no attempt would be made to raise the full amount of bond required. Preparations had been made to supply $100,000 for his release, but the Insulls and their counsel had not counted on so great a sum.

"I am resigned to jail," the elder Insull was quoted by his son.

4 Times Capone's Bond
The bond assessed against the stricken monarch, once one of America's wealthiest men, was four times that of his younger brother, Martin, and four times that furnished by Al Capone, gang lord, who was tried and convicted by

Insull Faces 156
Years in Jail and Fines of $200,000

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Samuel Insull faces these charges:

Federal: Using the mails to defraud, transferring assets of an insolvent company in anticipation of bankruptcy.

State: Two indictments alleging embezzlement and larceny.

Insull is liable to these penalties:

Mail fraud: Five years and $10,000 fine on each of the 25 counts.

Bankruptcy Fraud: Five years on each of five counts.

State Charges: One to ten years on each indictment.

TOTALS: 156 years in jail (the indeterminate sentences usually average about three years, and $250,000 in fines.

this same prosecutor, Dwight Green.

Martin Insull, brought home a prisoner after two years in fighting extradition from Canada, was missing from the homecoming scene of his brother today. Facing only the state charges of larceny and embezzlement, since he was extradited solely on these indictments, Martin spent a single night in the county jail a month ago and then gave $50,000 bond and was released, going to the rural home of his son-in-law, Maj. William Rafferty, at Morocco, Ind.

A faint hope that Insull might yet win freedom from jail bars was expressed by Attorney Thompson while ham sandwiches and coffee were being brought for Insull and his son at the Marshal's office.

Thompson said he might appeal the fixing of bond to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which is now in session.

"Not Asking Mercy"
"But we may let him go out to the county jail," Thompson said. "We are not asking for mercy. They can send him to the rock pile if they want to. However, if they put up the bond—but we are not passing the hat any more."

Insull was taken from the Marshal's office on the eighth floor of the federal building in downtown Chicago and loaded into a taxicab for the three mile ride across the city.

He prepared to go with no evident displeasure and was, in fact, in fair spirits.

He let comment to his son, Samuel, Jr., who had been with him all day.

"I have nothing whatever to say," said the elder Insull. "My son will make all the statements." Insull, Jr. said:

TRACE OF JUNE
ROBLES LOCATED IN SONORA, MEX.

Officers Confident Abductors are Surrounded in Province

Cananea, Sonora, Mex., May 8.—(AP)—The house in which kidnapped June Robles may have been held as recently as two days ago has been found, two patrolmen disclosed today.

The statement came as a man-hunt, such as this ancient mining settlement has not seen since Mexico's rurales swept down in pursuit of early day brigands, spread through Cananea and the surrounding territory.

The policemen, Corporals George Ash and Tom Newell, of the Arizona highway patrol, did not disclose the exact location of the house, but they said they were convinced the 6-year-old heiress to the fortune of Bernabe Robles, Tucson cattle baron, was now in the hands of two men.

Confident of Success
They pictured the abductors as dodging desperately from adobe shack to sunbaked arroyo some where inside the district around which a closing ring of steel-banded Mexican soldiers with bayoneted rifles is converging. They were confident the kidnappers could not escape.

When they came upon the house, they found evidence the child had been there but two days ago, her kidnappers apparently having fled with her in alarm as the search, originating in Nogales on the border to the west, touched points near Cananea.

The report of the patrolmen yesterday by criminal officers in which they said they knew the child was alive and probably would be returned within 24 hours. The point of her return proved in error and last night a large force of officers returned to their bases, empty-handed after an extensive search.

Report Dillinger
Being Chased on Chicago's So. Side

Chicago, May 8.—(AP)—A report that John Dillinger and members of his outlaw band were being chased by detectives on a south side street was broadcast over the police radio this afternoon.

The unconfirmed report indicated that police had sighted two carsloads of Dillinger gangsters motoring in from Whiting, Ind., and had given chase.

Squads throughout the south side were dispatched to the neighborhood in search of them.

DROP FELONY CHARGES
Chicago, May 8.—(AP)—Three men accused of attempting to kidnap Emanuel Philip Adler, wealthy Davenport, Ia., newspaper publisher and banker, now face trial in Criminal Court, for similar charges against them today were dropped in Felony Court.

SMALL UNDER KNIFE

First Crew of Men Begin Work in Lowell Under Work Relief Plans;
Other Projects to be Completed

The first crew of men to begin work under the new Illinois Emergency Relief program started yesterday at Lowell park when a force of ten workmen began completing the work which has been started under the CWA program.

Indications today pointed to the opening up of several other work relief projects within a few days.

County Superintendent of Work Relief J. E. Reagan stated that a force of ten men from Amboy would start work Thursday morning to complete improvement of the Amboy township high school athletic field. Two men had been assigned to start Thursday morning on the completion of interior decorating at the Dixon public library.

There were indications that a force of Dixon township workmen would renew activities at the Dixon Municipal airport within a few days while another crew would begin work at the court house square where an uncompleted project is to be finished this spring.

OFFICER, TWO
GUNMEN, SHOT
IN GANG HUNT

"Dillinger Squad" In Running Fight in Chicago Today

Chicago, May 8.—(AP)—One policeman was shot in the arm and two alleged gunmen were probably fatally wounded today in a gun battle on the southwest side when two Police Sergeants, attached to the special "Dillinger hunting" detail, chased five men in a sedan who were suspected of being gangsters.

Suspicious, Sergeants Edward Waller and Albert Schwarz chased the speeding sedan. It was blocked by another car at an intersection, and four men jumped out and ran into a nearby gas station, firing on police with revolvers and a shotgun as they went.

In the return fire by police two of the suspects were injured, one in the head and the other in the stomach. Physicians at the bridge-well hospital said both would probably die.

The other two escaped on foot. The driver of their car drove away, but abandoned the automobile a short distance away.

Police said the two wounded were identified as Michael Seneru, 23, and Joseph Gauliki, 22.

FEDERAL AGENT
TO VISIT RAIN-
LESS AREA SOON

Hopkins' Aide to Survey
Drought Stricken
Middle West

Des Moines, May 8.—(AP)—The dry spell in the middle-west, desperately in need of rain, lingered on today.

As the farm belt went into the second week of crop destroying drought, the only note of relief outside of the weather man's promise of local showers tonight or Wednesday was a report that an assistant to Harry L. Hopkins, National Relief Administrator, would visit the stricken areas to decide on relief policies.

He is Lawrence Westbrook, who will tour the rainless districts and report his findings to Washington.

A blazing sun over most of the central west yesterday sent temperatures rocketing. Many farmers were forced to haul water long distances for their cattle and other stock.

High Temperatures
Lincoln, Neb., had an unofficial top of 96. In Missouri, Kansas City chalked up a 92 for the record of the day, while St. Louis sweltered under a maximum 86.

County Bluffs, hottest spot in Iowa, had a reading of 95 for the hottest May 7 in history.

On the heels of the drought came reports of water shortages in several city reservoirs, lack of feed, hay and pasture for stock, and an alarming situation in small grains, which are suffering the most from heat and dryness.

Meanwhile forest fire raged in the dry timber near Antigo, Wis., while farmers, villagers and CCC workers were mustered out to save the village of Dawson, 25 miles northeast of Antigo.

Two cabins were destroyed and four homes threatened.

Communications Commission Urge of Commerce Body

Washington, May 8.—(AP)—Creation of a Federal Communications Commission to regulate telephone, telegraph, radio, wireless and cable systems was advocated today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Meanwhile, Hugh S. Johnson, NRA Administrator, said that while he may have to impose a code on the communications industry, "I don't want to impose any code if I can get out of it."

The NRA yesterday made public a code drafted for the unwilling telephone industry.

Illinois Highway Department Seeks to Control Noise

Belleville, Ill., May 8.—(AP)—An experiment in "noise control" is the latest venture of the state Highway Department here.

For years residents of west Main street have protested the ever present roar of traffic past their homes. So the state Highway Department is planting rows of umbrella trees along the parking. These trees, which develop thick foliage, are looked to as a means of deadening the noise of passing motor cars.

CLAIMS FOR CWA
TOOLS PIGEON-
HOLED IN DIXON?

Mayor Tells Council that Claims Never Went to Headquarters

An allegedly offensive hog lot south of the city limits, which the city council considered at some length months ago, as a result of which it drafted and passed an ordinance directed against such defenses, is again a subject of discussion. A delegation of citizens appeared at the council session last evening to inquire why the ordinance had not been enforced and in addition complained that the hog pens now exist and that the odor is more offensive than before.

Mayor Dixon agreed that the taxpayers were deserving of protection and that the offense should be hastily eliminated. City Attorney Martin Gannon advised mandamus proceedings or an injunction restraining Frank Hughes from maintaining a nuisance and Commissioner Cal G. Tyler added that an ordinance passed by the present council was applicable in this particular case and reported conditions as he had found them in the neighborhood on a recent visit, which in his opinion required the immediate attention of city officials.

Would Furnish Band
W. H. Flamm, in a communication to the council, proposed to furnish a band for free concerts in Dixon during the months of June, July and August, to consist of not less than 30 musicians, the greater number of whom would be residents of Dixon. He also proposed to organize and conduct a systematic course of instruction on band instruments in the public schools of the city in consideration of the sum of $2,955 per year. The council referred the communication to the Civic Band Commission for consideration.

CWA Claims Held Up
Mayor Dixon told the council that in response to numerous complaints from Dixon merchants who had furnished tools and equipment for Civil Works Administration projects and who had not been compensated for their wares. He said he had received the information that the claims of the Dixon merchants were not known in Chicago and told the council that they had in all probability been "pigeon holed as an example of the usual government inefficiency." Merchants were advised to file additional claims for such materials.

The council voted to award the contract for the widening of Chicago Avenue to David L. Heagy, local contractor, and to issue a junk yard license to the firm of Sinow & Weinman at 114-120 West River street. The application of Arthur Miller to erect an electric sign at 601 Depot Avenue was granted. Mrs. Anna Johnson, 1022 First street was granted a soft drink license.

TEN ST. LOUIS
MEN BURNED IN
ELEVATOR BLASTGrain Dust Explosion Caused Fire in Stored Grain

BULLETIN

St. Louis, May 8.—(AP)—One man was killed and ten were burned, five of them seriously, in three violent grain dust explosions this morning in the huge Missouri Pacific elevator on the Mississippi river front in South St. Louis.

Fred Laubscher, 48, an assistant weigher who has been employed at the elevator for eleven years, died of burns at the City Hospital an hour and 15 minutes after the explosion.

St. Louis, May 8.—(AP)—Ten men were burned, six of them seriously in a violent grain dust explosion this morning in the Missouri Pacific elevator at the foot of Primm street. The blast shattered all of the windows in the huge structure, broke long cracks in the upper portion of the building and caused a fire in 1,600,000 bushels of grain stored there.

The fire burned for half an hour. Twenty-three men were at work in the building at the time of the explosion, which appeared to originate in the head room at the top of the conveyor which is used to carry grain from the cars in the tracks below into the storage chamber of the elevator.

Julius Meyer, vice president of the Continental Export Co., which leases the elevator, said he had been unable to determine the cause of the explosion, which he feared others who were in the vicinity. Others not immediately affected by the fire rushed into the elevator and carried the injured men out. Several suffered from the effects of gases generated by the blast.

TO PROBE BIG FIRE
Joliet—Officials launched an investigation of a $1,000,000 fire which yesterday destroyed the ware house of the Orenda Corporation, roofing manufacturers at Wilmington, about 20 miles south of here. Firemen worked desperately for several hours to bring the fire under control without destruction of adjoining buildings.

The Dixon Telegraph extends an invitation to everyone to attend the Cooking School. It will be well worth the effort. You will learn how to prepare many new dishes.

Tribute is Paid
Miss LieVan at Church on Monday

A beautiful memorial service was held in recognition of the long Christian life of Miss Rachel LieVan, at Grace Evangelical church, Monday afternoon. Mrs. A. Kline and Mrs. Sarah Rles gave three beautiful selections in song. Rev. Shaffer read the scripture and offered prayer. Rev. I. Divan, former local pastor, brought a message of comfort based on the Word in 2 Cor. 5-1, using for his subject "The Heavenly Home." Rev. Divan paid deserved tribute to the earnest, faithful, Christian life of Miss LieVan. Relatives from other states were present. Among the floral offerings were tributes from the church board, the Woman's Missionary Society and her Sunday school class. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.

BODY IDENTIFIED
St. Louis, May 8.—(AP)—A body recovered from the Mississippi river here yesterday has been identified as that of Joseph Schenatto, 18, of Alton, Ill., who fell out of a boat while hunting ducks near Alton last Nov. 8. The identification was made by Schenatto's stepfather, Peter Manar of Alton, who was with the youth at the time of the accident.

Honor Mrs. Jed
Shaw on Birthday

A paper printed in Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., carried the following item in regard to Mrs. Jed Shaw, who has friends and relatives and friends here, being a very charming woman who has visited here many times. Her husband, the late Jeremiah Shaw and the late Benjamin F. Shaw were brothers. Following is the item:

Mrs. Shaw, mother of Mrs. Stephen Ford Holtzman of Calumet Avenue, was guest of honor at a tea given on her ninetieth birthday anniversary by Mrs. Charles Noble, also of Calumet Avenue last week. Mrs. Shaw received a great many gifts and her party was attended by a few of her oldest friends and contemporaries, Mrs. Ira McConnell, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Loomis, Mrs. Wilkins; also present were Mrs. Holtzman, Mrs. C. C. Fowler, Mrs. Edgar Johnson, Mrs. Harry Holbert, Mrs. Mads P. Madsen, Mrs. Harry W. Ferguson, Mrs. John Donnelly, Mrs. Charles Andrews, Mrs. James Lettrell and Mrs. Harold Shreve.

Noted Women's Chorus
at May Festival
on May 14th

The growth in popularity in women's choruses is attested by one of our local groups, the Troubadets. It was organized a year ago last February by Mrs. E. M. Good-Goodell as the director. It has increased until now there are twenty-five voices. Miss Marie Worley is president of the organization, Miss Leona Ott secretary, and Miss Marcella Rutt, treasurer, while Mrs. Goodell is the director. It was feared by many that radio music would drive out all attempts of musicians in local communities to continue their efforts. But such groups as the Troubadets here in Dixon, seem to be increasing all over the country. This chorus has not only added greatly to the musical enjoyment of its own members, but it has repeated by given pleasure to music lovers at many delightful affairs in the community. They have extended their sphere, and have given concerts in Foreston, Polo, Princeton, Ashton, Moxon and other nearby towns. But perhaps we are most proud of their concert given one Sunday last summer at the Century of Progress. We are indeed glad that Dixon possesses musical talent worthy of such recognition, and are awaiting with keen interest their part of the Music Festival.

ST. MARY'S P. T. A.
MEETS TONIGHT—

The P. T. A. of St. Mary's School will meet this evening at 7:30, at the school, instead of meeting on Thursday evening. Mrs. J. A. Reynolds will be the room mother in charge of the program.

Specialties "Last
Daze of School"

The specialties that are an added attraction to the play, "Last Daze of School," are especially interesting. Mrs. Lyle Shippert, nee Dorothy Hollingsworth, is featuring a novelty dance. She will be accompanied at the piano by Miss Irma Wiley. The International Four is a Sterling quartette whose talents will be sure to please. Elmer Hagstrom, Elmer Albus, Elmer Sollenberger and Daniel Williams make up this quartette. They appear in both instrumental and vocal numbers.

The "school" has several interesting ensemble choruses. Altogether Wednesday evening at the L. O. O. F. Hall should prove an enjoyable occasion, packed with fun, good humor and clever entertainment.

NORTH DIXON P. T. A.
TO MEET WEDNESDAY—
The North Dixon P. T. A. will hold a most interesting meeting on Wednesday at 3:30 o'clock.

A splendid program including musical numbers, a short Girl Scout play, and several short talks by prominent school people has been arranged.

The main topic is a discussion of the additional curriculum activities in high school.

A large attendance is desired as this is the last meeting of the school year.

Diet Control Demands Care; Attention to Fundamentals

Diets may come and go. Food fads may suddenly flash upon the horizon and disappear. But the A. B. C's of food facts remain. They are the basis upon which all diets are built, all fads developed, and it is the A. B. C's that home managers of today are most interested.

They are really very simple: food must be fresh, it must be simply cooked to bring out the naturally flavor, and it must be temptingly served. Each day's menu should include at least a pint of milk for every adult and a quart for every child, one uncooked vegetable, two cooked vegetables, and two fruits. These are the A. B. C's.

With these as a basis it is fairly easy for even the most inexperienced of housewives to build up nourishing, delicious and inexpensive dishes to feed her family.

If, however, the housewife must be certain that the first of her rules holds true or the whole structure falls down. The food must be fresh, and in good condition.

Taste, sight and smell are not safe guides to use in testing the freshness of foods. Milk may taste sweet, yet have a very high bacterial count. Apples may look firm and rosy, yet be rotting at the core. The only way to be absolutely certain that food is fresh and pure is to buy foods of known quality and store them at the proper, constant temperature. And in the final analysis, that means adequate refrigeration in the home—and the safest and best kind of such refrigeration is Kelvinator.

All of this problem of proper diet, then, goes back directly to the fundamental problem of meal planning. Miss Egger, during her three-day cooking school, will devote considerable time and attention to the problem of meal planning. How to plan savory meals from leftovers, how to plan your meals so that you can do a week of marketing in advance, how to give your family the food that they need at the least cost—all of these will be discussed by Miss Egger.

BRETHREN CHURCH

The observance of National Music Week at the Brethren church has started off with a fine interest, good crowds and splendid programs. Music week offers an opportunity to cultivate a better appreciation of good music in our churches, schools, and the nation. Good music elevates, inspires, and gives cheer, hope, and faith. The program last night was given by a group of singers from Manchester college, consisting of five young ladies, and four young men, with their leader Prof. J. O. Winger. Their program was well given and many compliments were heard from the large crowd which heard them.

The program of tonight will be given by a group of singers from Sterling, and short talks from Rev. Ezra Flory, and will be of interest to both young and old. We urge that the members and friends of this church strive to attend every service in this series. Each evening's program will be unique in itself, and each program will be different from the others. The programs will start at 7:30 each evening. An invitation is extended to the public.

MOOSE TO MEET

W.M.S. of Christian Church Elected Officers at Meeting

One of the most interesting missionary programs of the year was presented Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. F. Kindig, by the Women's Missionary Society of the Christian church.

The music for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. A. S. Derr, which was given in many clever and beautiful ways. The meeting opened in a song of "Brotherhood," followed in prayer by Mrs. J. A. Barnett. Roll call was answered by Chinese proverbs. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Mrs. J. A. Barnett.
Vice president—Mrs. S. A. Bennett.
Secretary—Mrs. Ward Hall.
Treasurer—Mrs. J. F. Kindig.
World Call secretary—Mrs. Taylor.

Librarian—Mrs. Charles Rice.
Pianist—Mrs. A. S. Derr.
Counselor of Circle—Mrs. Ward Hall.
Assistant Counselor of Circle—Mrs. Carl Kling.
Counselor of Triangle—Mrs. Lee Stauffer.

Mrs. Taylor had charge of the devotional period, "Moments with the Master."

Prayer—Mrs. Seyster.
Scripture reading, John 4:27-38.
Song—"Open My Eyes that I Might See."

Mrs. Carl Straw presented the presentation period and in her efficient way told of many interesting things about China. Mrs. Lee Stauffer also gave an interesting talk on the same subject.

A playlet entitled "We Enter China" was given by Mrs. Carl Straw, Mrs. J. E. Newcomb, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Seyster and Mrs. William Stauffer. A very pleasing round was then sung by three groups of ladies, "Row, Row, Bow the Boat." The second broadcast was given by Mrs. J. E. Newcomb over station UCMS who broadcasted snappy news items from World Call.

Mrs. J. F. Kindig then offered prayer for several very ill members.

After the benediction tempting refreshments were served by the hostesses.

May Luncheon Concludes P. E. O. Year

Chapter AC, Illinois P. E. O. concluded the program of the year with a 1 o'clock May luncheon at the Coffee House Monday. Following the luncheon all were entertained at the home of Mrs. Clyde Ross.

Mrs. John Charters conducted an especially interesting business meeting.

Miss Josephine Nichols who was a delegate, gave a comprehensive report of the Illinois State P. E. O. convention, held at Chicago. This was supplemented by Mrs. Charters.

All present expressed their pleasure in the charming hospitality of Mrs. Ross as a close to an enjoyable year.

PARLOR CLUB GUEST DAY TO BE MAY 21st

The O. E. S. Parlor Club met at the Masonic Temple Monday afternoon with a good attendance present.

Bridge was enjoyed, with Mrs. Grover Hoberg winning the favor for high honors and Mrs. Merton Ransom winning the consolation favor.

Two weeks from yesterday will be guest day and a picnic luncheon at 1 o'clock will be a feature. Each member is privileged to invite one or more guests.

3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons chopped onions
2 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons chopped celery
3 tablespoons chopped green peppers.

1 cup boiled rice
1 cup tomatoes
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon paprika
1 cup cooked shrimps

Melt butter in frying pan. Add and brown onions, flour, celery, pepper and rice. Add rest of ingredients and cook 3 minutes. Serve.

Caramel Bavarian Cream
2-3 cup sugar
1-2 cup water
1 tablespoon granulated gelatin
4 tablespoons cold water
2 egg yolks
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-8 teaspoon salt
1 cup whipped cream

Sprinkle sugar on frying pan. Heat slowly and stir constantly with wooden spoon until brown syrup forms. Add 1-2 cup water and boil until thick syrup forms.

Soak gelatin in 4 tablespoons cold water 5 minutes. Beat yolks, add milk and syrup mixture. Heat in double boiler, add gelatin mixture and stir until dissolved. Cool and add rest of ingredients. Pour into glass mold and chill until stiff. Re quires about 3 hours to chill and stiffen thoroughly. Unmold and serve plain or with cream.

An excellent dessert for company as it can be made a day prior to serving.

Unusual Program of Foods Will Open Cooking School Tomorrow Afternoon in Dixon Moose Hall

Kelvinator - Telegraph Three - Day School Week's Feature

The three day Cooking School sponsored by the Evening Telegraph and the Kelvinator corporation will open its sessions in the Moose hall tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Each day's program will last two hours or more. Miss Mary Egger, expert home economist from the Kelvin Kitchen in Detroit, will be in charge and has prepared a schedule of demonstrations which will be of interest to every housewife. Not only will Dixon housewives be given an insight into the unlimited possibilities of refrigerator food preparation but other forms of cooking and baking as well.

Each day she will prepare a complete meal on the stage. For tomorrow's session she has chosen a menu suitable for an informal dinner. The women in attendance will have an opportunity of witnessing the complete process of roasting and garnishing a beautiful rib roast; a pressed meat loaf, a whole-some loaf; the quick and easy preparation of graham cracker ice cream, the tempting tip top pie, bran muffins and the attractive golden-brown cake.

All of these dishes have been selected with an eye to economy and ease of preparation, and the manner in which they are completed on the stage will be a revelation to those in the audience.

Stage Is Set
Today, final arrangements were being completed at the Moose hall. The stage setting is artistic. There will be not only a model kitchen but a dining room as well, and on the dining table will be placed the correct service for the particular type of meal in preparation.

Many problems dealing with the home arts will be discussed by Miss Egger during the course of her afternoon school and women are urged to present any particularly confusing ones which have been troubling them. Miss Egger has conducted similar schools throughout the country for a number of years and is expertly trained to conduct classes in home economics.

All foods which are prepared on the stage during the afternoon will be presented a few fortunate women in the audience, so if any of those scheduled for tomorrow seem especially appealing, perhaps you had better start concentrating. It promises to be a real party and local housewives will find the hours spent in attendance the most memorable of any of their usual forms of afternoon entertainment.

Contest Rules
If you haven't already sent in your recipe for the recipe contest, get out your pen or pencil and jot down your favorite. It may win one of the numerous worthwhile cash prizes. The rules of the contest appear elsewhere in this edition. Scores of recipes have already been received but the judges are eager for hundreds more so that they may start their job of elimination.

Remember there is also a slogan contest. Entry blanks for this contest appear on the back of the menu sheets distributed at each cooking school session. These slogans which are not to exceed fifteen words will be judged by prominent local judges and the winner will receive a 1934 Kelvinator, the gift of the Evening Telegraph. This Kelvinator is now on display in the window of the Highway Cafe.

WHITE SHRINE MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT

BIG COMMUNITY JUBILEE TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Brookner, Vern Tennant and Lloyd Lewis take prominent parts.

Headliners in the radio broadcasting program are Mrs. Rosanna Dysart, Miss Lucy Bovey, Miss Margaret Ballou, Dr. H. D. Burke and Rev. Gilbert Stansell.

No studio is worthy of the name without a male quartet and here are the "makings" of a good one, namely—Merton Memler, Duane Wood, Robert Fulmer and Sumner Wilson. And the pianist is Mrs. Charles Bishop, who is all that can be desired, also a sympathetic accompanist and coach.

Well, now here's the Hill Billy number—(really, there is enough entertainment in each group or number, well worth the admission)—in the Hill Billy number are the following and their "get-ups" costumes, etc., are a scream:

Hill-Billy Number
S. Perkins .. Neal Reagan
Hiram Zilch .. Malcolm Brown
Johnny .. Louis Lecky
Frankie .. Sterling Schrock
Nellie Bly .. Frank Sproul
Smokie Joe .. Charlie Bush
Old Dan Tucker (Fiddler) .. Jess .. Clinton Origenes
Guitar Player .. Rob. Gallagher
Maud .. O. W. Dodd
Susan .. Orvil Gearhart
Jess .. Dave Palmer
Grandpaw .. Walter Trautman
Hill Billy Chorus .. Donald Bush.
Howard Brown, Junior Gearhart, Russell Bush, Denton Tennant, Ralph Gonnemann.

Then follow the Stars and Stripes group with beautiful and stirring patriotic music and tableaux:

Stars and Stripes
Uncle Sam .. Ellen Bunnell
Columbia .. Mildred Beyer
Spirit of '76 .. Mr. Lee Reed
Hero of the South .. John Ford
Mother of the Blue and the Gray .. Mrs. Nellie Eastman
Soldiers of the World War .. Walter Fallstrom, Charles Ramsey.
Sailors of the World War .. August Fraza, Darrell Brenner.
Red Cross Nurse .. Alma Coss
Bugler .. Russell Mason
The Dancing Chorus contains some of the most able dancers in Dixon and they step it off like professionals.

Jean Bovey, Mary Davies, Mae Louise Eichler, Lorraine Giannoni, Helen Long, Georgiana Shaw, Eleanor Sterling, Emily Swan, Rita Tofte, Kathryn Buchner, Betty Haines, Mary Hofmann, Leone Kreim, Muriel Kirby, Betty Merriam and Frances De Puy.

Colonial men and women encompass delightful numbers also the pretty Sunshine Chorus:

Colonial Men and Women
Louise Hintz, Genevieve Stiles, Jackie Bales, Genevieve Catalina
Sunshine Chorus:

Increasing interest in the WLS Barn Dance Show has resulted in many last minute additions to the character list. Those taking part are being splendidly coached and directed by Miss Weaver, a skilled director from the Prairie Farmer WLS radio station Chicago. This production has brought to Lee County the opportunity for many Home Talent artists to show their special ability in handling a certain kind of musical instrument and bringing their ability before the eyes of this well known radio station which says, "We find in every community young men and young women of genuine ability who are able to imitate these characters to perfection and who, if they had the chance would be as good on the radio as many of the real stars themselves."

A most unusual show will be offered to the people of this community and there will be three gala nights at the Amboy Opera House on May 10-11-12.

Announcements will go out over the air from the Prairie Farmer WLS radio station of Chicago several days before the show is given

Miss Hersch Is Bride Orval Hanson

A quiet home wedding of interest to many occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Hanson of Shabbona on Saturday evening when Miss Gladys Hersch became the bride of Orval Hanson. Miss Hersch, a graduate of Mt. Morris College, has been a successful teacher in Washington Grove Community, having taught in Prairie Star school the past five years, coming to the vicinity from Buffalo Minnesota.

The groom is a brother of Mrs. Richard Greenfield of Washington Grove. Miss Frances Hersch, sister of the bride, and Ivan Altenberg were guests at the wedding.

The young couple will reside on a farm near Shabbona. The good wishes of their many friends of the community are theirs.

MAKE WAY YOURSELVES, WE ARE THE PEOPLE!

"The core of the American tradition," says Dr. Rexford G. Tugwell, "is to be found in a kind of defiance to fate." Dr. Tugwell, who is either a smart young man in a big job or a fearful bogey-man with claws and cloven feet, depending on your point of view, made this remark before the convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington.

He was trying to make clear that the administration welcomes criticism, and that any attempt at regimentation of American life in defiance of the will of the masses would be foredoomed to failure.

And in this remark there is a shrewd appreciation of a fundamental part of the American character—a part which both radicals and Tories tend to overlook.

"We will not do what we do not want to do, and coercion cannot make us," adds Dr. Tugwell. "We can be fooled, but not for long. We have a precious inventiveness which gets us out of holes. We have a saving irreverence for authority."

Here is an excellent point for everybody concerned to keep in mind. It makes these terrors of Communism, Fascism, and so on much less terrifying; for all such schemes must, sooner or later, run their heels onto this hard rock of stubborn contrariness—the fact that, in the long run, we will not do what we do not want to do, which is just another way of saying that in the end the honest wish of the majority will prevail.

It reminds one somehow of that old story of the Fourth of July celebration in a small midwestern town half a century ago. The governor, a senator, and a couple of representatives were to address the citizens in a public park.

Pretty soon they started making their way through the crowd to the speakers' stand, and some flunkies or other who was trying to clear a path for them called out, "Make way for the representatives of the people."

Instantly someone in the crowd called back: "Make way yourself. We ARE the people!"

And that's what it all comes down to. The people's representatives, down at Washington, may advance any kind of theory or nostrum they choose; eventually, if their fellow citizen don't like the looks of it, they will hear that old cry—"Make way yourselves. We are the people!"

DEATH OF A PIONEER RECALLS OUR YOUTH.

Times seems to move fast, on the North American continent. The day before yesterday is antiquity; an empire can be built in a generation, and a man's lifetime can span changes that take centuries elsewhere.

You can hop in a car nowadays and drive anywhere in the west that once was wild without the slightest danger of anything worse than running out of gas a long way from a filling station.

And yet it was only the other day that Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott died; and General Scott fought the Indians all across that limitless stretch, and knew the western trails in the days when a man risked his scalp to follow them.

His life was a long one—he died at the age of 80; and yet, as the lives of nations go, it was short enough, and the changes which he saw and helped to bring about simply emphasize anew a fact that we sometimes forget—that we are, after all, a very young nation, and that our future is ahead of us.

The things that have happened to us in the depression years sometimes make us think and talk as if we had reached an extreme old age. We look back on a golden era, and we trace the evolution of our industry and our social system as if we were a very ancient people that had somehow reached the end of a very long trail.

We have come to some sort of fork in the road, and we carry on as if we had got to the end of all things. So it pays us to look back and see how short our national career has really been.

General Scott went west, a young West Pointer, in 1876. Custer was newly dead at the Little Big Horn; the west was aflame with angry tribesmen; the country had not even finished the job of civilizing and pacifying its western borders. It was, in other words, still on the threshold of its youth.

Now that far-off time was less than 60 years ago. Since then we have hardly had time to do more than lay the foundations for our future.

We could make no greater mistake than to let the last few years scare us into thinking that we have passed our prime. Everything is still ahead of us; we were pioneers only yesterday.

When I am convinced that a certain course is the only one and the right one for my nation, I intend to pursue it, come what may.—Adolf Hitler.

Women should be buxom. Slimming practices result in ugliness rather than beauty.—Statement attributed to Premier Mussolini of Italy.

I am going to go out and educate the state of California in economics and good government.—George Creel, candidate for governor.

There is no question so big but it can be settled right if met in the right spirit.—Daniel J. Tobin, labor leader.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The cat that played the fiddle cried, "Say have you wee tots ever tried to do tricks with a fiddle, like the tricks you have seen me just do?"
"I made a cow jump o'er the moon by playing just one little tune. I also made a dog laugh, and a dish go scampering, too."
"Oh, you are real clever, goodness knows. We cannot do fine tricks like those," said Scouty. "Let's see some more tunes, please, and let's see what happens next."
"Here comes a funny looking pig. Go on, and make him dance a jig. The fiddling cat then glanced all around and finally looked perplexed."
It finally said, "Oh, I am stuck. Now, wouldn't it be just my luck to have you pick on something that I simply cannot do?"
"Besides, I have to hurry home. Good luck, tots, everywhere you roam. Perhaps you will call again some day and I'll be seeing you."

Daily Health Talk

THE COCCI GERMS

Since the germ causation of disease was first demonstrated by Pasteur in the middle of the last century, much progress has been made in combating germs. Hygiene, asepsis and specific antitoxins have enabled us to overcome many diseases.

Against the common infections, however, he have made relatively little progress. Particularly resistant have been those diseases caused by the lowly germ type known as the coccus.

The coccus germ is round. Its cellular organization is the simplest of the germ types from the viewpoint of the revolutionary scale.

It is assumed that these germs probably have been longest associated with the higher forms of life man included. Perhaps because of this long association, the cocci have developed a great adaptability to man and this adaptability is responsible for some of their competence to injure man.

The cocci germs are pur-producing. This means that the body fights them principally through the agency of the white blood cells. This, too, is considered a primitive form of defense.

Various attempts have been made to fight the cocci germs. Specific chemical compounds built around arsenic have been employed in the hope that they might prove as effective against the cocci as similar compounds have proved against the germ of syphilis. These chemical compounds, however, have not yet proved very promising.

More promising has been the use of human blood transfusions and, equally effective, certain antitoxin sera which have been developed.

The cocci germs are responsible for many cases of blood poisoning following trivial injuries. The use of antitoxin serums, the elimination of sites of infection by surgery, and blood transfusions are three means and procedures which medicine is using today with a certain measure of effectiveness in dealing with blood poisoning.

WALLACE MAY BE SPEAKER AT TRASK OUTING

May Accept Invitation to Winnebago County Picnic

Washington, May 8—(AP)—When the Trask Bridge picnic is held this August by the Burrill Grange of Winnebago county, Illinois, it may have as its principal speaker none other than Secretary Wallace of Agriculture.

Wallace's office explains that there are two reasons why there is nothing definite about the matter. In the first place he doesn't accept invitations that far in advance. In the second place he hasn't yet been invited.

However, Paul H. Appleby, his secretary, explained that the office had been informed by several sources that such an invitation was on the way. "And, of course," he'll wait until it has been received."

At least 51 Illinois communities which defaulted in the payment of their obligations up to last November 24 would be eligible to readjust their finances under the municipal bankruptcy measure now pending in Congress.

Senator Neely, (D-W. Va.) gave this figure in discussing the bill in the Senate.

"Any distressed 'taxing district,' Neely said, 'may file a petition in a court of bankruptcy stating that it is insolvent or unable to meet its debts as they mature and that it desires to effect a plan of readjustment of its obligations. The petition shall state that a plan of readjustment is filed with it, and that the creditors of the taxing district owning not less than 51 per cent in amount of the bonds, notes or other evidence of the indebtedness of the taxing district affected by the plan, excluding certain obligations owned or controlled by the district in its own right have accepted the plan in writing.'

"The petition shall be accompanied with the written acceptance and with a list of all known creditors of the taxing district, together with their addresses, so far as is known, and descriptions of their respective claims."

Should a judge approve of the petition, "it shall be binding not only upon the taxing district, but also upon all of its creditors, whether secured or unsecured."

Representative Dirksen (R. Ill.) has another idea for helping the middle western farmer. Writing Joseph H. Choate, Jr., director of the Federal Alcohol Control Board, he suggested that instead of permitting France to ship so many thousands of gallons of liquor to America in return for buying so many thousands of bushels of fruit that France and the other countries be required to buy from America the actual ingredients of the liquors they send here.

Pointing out that 250,000,000 bushels of corn are now sealed in cribs in Illinois, Iowa, and other states, Dirksen asked why foreign countries could not be required to import corn in exchange for permission to export spirits.

Get Along Little Piggie Get Along, is Tune

BY W. B. KRUECK

Formerly Professor Animal Husbandry Purdue University

The corn-hog program provides for a reduction in pork production. With relatively high priced corn and a shortage of corn in some sections there will undoubtedly be a tendency on the part of hog feeders to economize on their hog rations during the spring and summer program of feeding. As a result of this there will undoubtedly be a small number of well finished hogs for the September market.

In 1933 September hogs were practically $2.00 per hundred-weight more than spring hogs that were marketed in December. This condition should prevail again this year, and it is possible that the margin may be even wider.

The most economical pork that a hog feeder produces can be made on the pig up to the time that it weighs a hundred pounds provided the pig is given a proper change. Self feeding the brood sow and litter not only helps to maintain the condition of the brood sow but increases the rate of gain upon the little pigs and at the same time reduces the amount of feed that is required to produce a hundred pounds of pork. Therefore the self feeding of the brood sow and litter should be adopted as a desirable practice.

In order that rapid economical gains may be obtained and the proper growth may be made the protein content of the ration of the little pig should run about 18% up to the time that the pig will weigh approximately 85 to 100 pounds. A mixture of feed running about this percentage protein would also be very desirable for a brood sow as a milk maker. If a variety of proteins can be supplied along with farm grain to give the balance of this kind the ration will be more complete and more efficient.

In addition to the protein content of the ration a few simple minerals seem to be quite desirable. It has been demonstrated that the milk of the brood sow is not complete. Anemia normally develops in a great many little pigs early in the season. The use of a few simple minerals containing particularly some copper and iron seems to be desirable in the ration of the pigs due to the fact that the feeding of this mineral to the brood sow does not necessarily correct the deficiency in the milk. Therefore a complete ration of grains, proteins and minerals self fed to brood sows and litters will give the pigs a running start which is essential to put them on the market and gain advantage of the top prices which are normally obtained in September.

If there rations can be fed upon clean pastures which have not been grazed by hogs during the last two years it will be a decided advantage and maintain the vigor and vitality of the pigs and avoiding infestations of parasites which are expensive to the hog producer.

Elmwood Holsteins Added to Selected Class of 800-Lbs.

Two excellent official records have recently been completed by two registered Holsteins owned by Elmwood Farm, Deardfield, Ill. In the ten-months division the seven-year-old, Johanna, Aaltje Pieterje Princess, made 896.7 lbs. of fat and 21,749.5 pounds of milk with an average test of 3.7 per cent. Regarding this cow K. Menon, manager of Elmwood Farm says: "This cow was purchased by us just a week or two before freshening and she as in very poor flesh to go on yearly test. She had never been milked more than twice daily and our idea was just to milk her four times for a few months for development, but after the first official test on her we were satisfied that

However, she continued to do so well month after month she was put on test and finished her year with a credit of 844.9 pounds of fat and 24,803.1 pounds of milk. # "I know how Steel Protects You in a Warship or a Car"

A CERTIFIED INTERVIEW WITH M. E. MERRITT, NAVY YARD, CHARLESTON, S. C.

1. "Welding steel in a Navy Yard, I see plenty of examples of the punishment steel has to stand. And anybody knows that if a battleship weren't made of steel it wouldn't stand a chance in action on the high seas today."

"I bought a Plymouth for its Safety-Steel Body... Lucky for me that I did!"

YOU'VE SEEN the steel armor on warships. It's Merritt's job to help make it. He knows how strong it is.

Small wonder that when he wanted a car, he picked Plymouth for its Safety-Steel Body. But he never thought that this precaution would one day save his life!

The drawing shows what happened. A foggy night. A sudden stop. Rammed by a truck from behind... catapulted into the air. Smashing down! Turning over and over! "The Safety-Steel Body was all that saved me!" he told us.

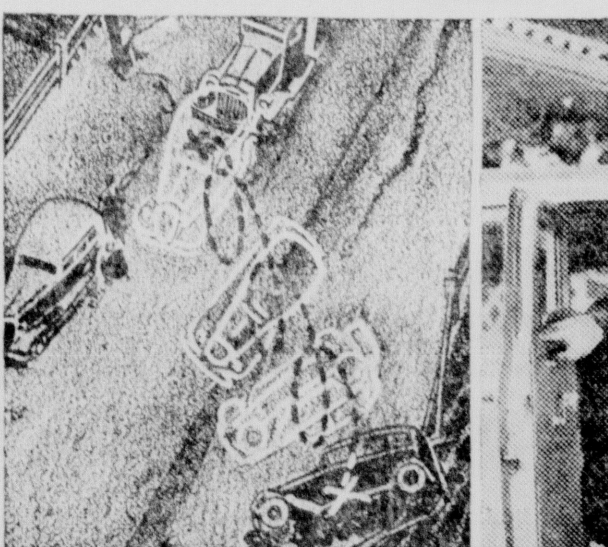

Experiences like this aren't common, but they do happen. That's why our engineers gave Plymouth a Safety-Steel Body and Hydraulic Brakes... the safest brakes made.

THEN, they made Plymouth more comfortable, with patented Floating Power engine mountings to keep all motor vibration away from the passengers... and Individual Wheel Springs to end all jouncing.

Any Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer will gladly give you a Plymouth demonstration—any time.

GAS COMPANY AT ROCHELLE AWARDED CUP

National Emblem Symbolic of Efficient Service Given

By ARTHUR T. GUEST
Rochelle—C. C. Davis has been here during the past week installing the equipment for the Shockley Studio. He comes here with fifteen years experience in such cities as Kansas City, Omaha, Los Angeles. He plans to move his family here in the near future. Rochelle people will be pleased to learn that this community has a reliable studio with all modern equipment.

The Service Club will sponsor a dancing party to be held at the Silver Gardens Monday evening, May 14th. The club has as its main objective the supplying of milk and cod liver oil and crackers to undernourished children in Rochelle's school; paying for dental bills and tonsil operations for children who would otherwise be neglected.

All parents and friends of the Boy Scouts of America, Troop 83, Rochelle, are asked to be present at the Parents' Night program on Tuesday, May 8. Mr. Newman, field executive of Black Hawk area, will be present. The program will be given at the Methodist church at 7 P. M.

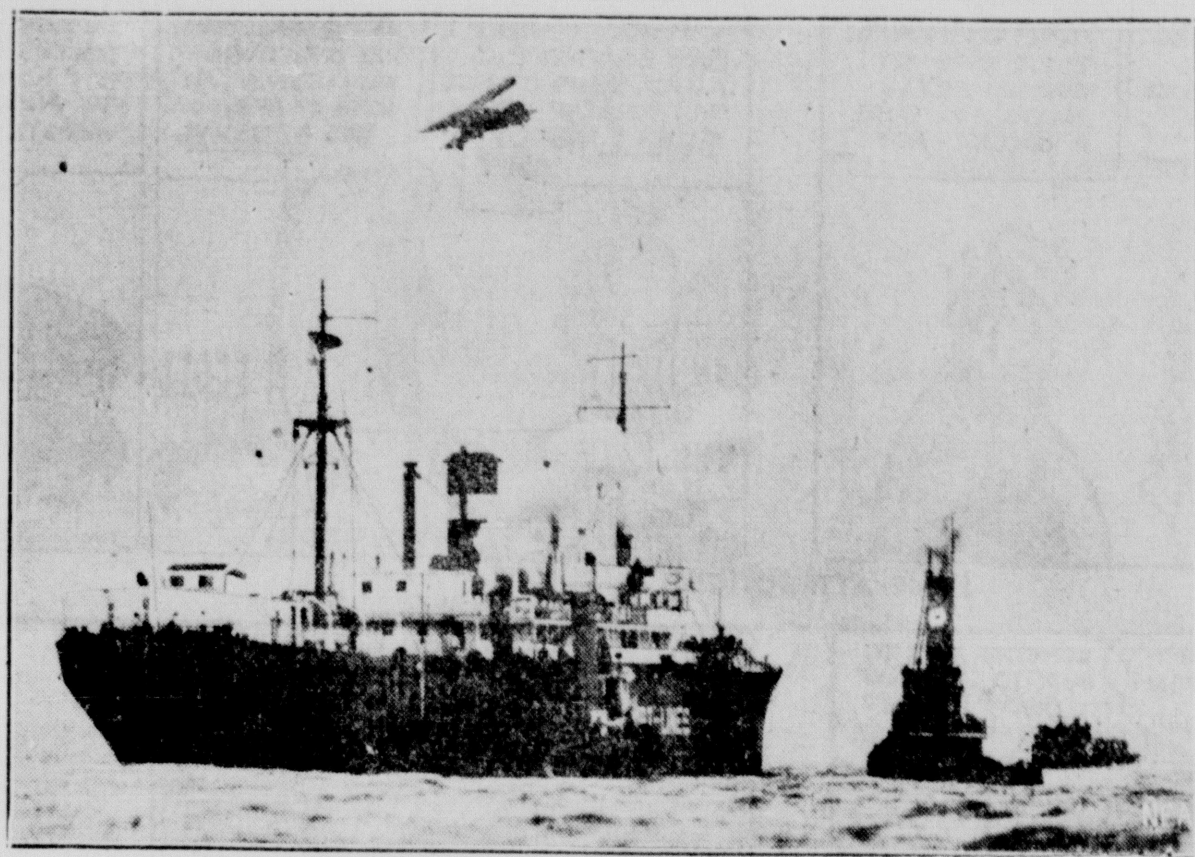

Each year the National Public Utilities System awards to one of its subsidiary or operating companies the national Public Utilities System silver cup as a testimonial of efficiency and service exceeding that of any other plant in the system. This year the Rochelle Gas Company has been awarded the cup and its name has been suitably inscribed thereon. The Rochelle Gas Company will hold possession of the cup until the next award. The cup is a beautiful token, standing about 18 inches high. Possession of this cup is quite an honor, there being twenty-three subsidiary companies in the National Public Utilities System.

A check was taken Wednesday by the state of Illinois on the traffic at the corner of Lincoln highway and 4th Avenue where there is now a stop and go sign operating. The check will decide as to whether the sign will be allowed to remain or not.

Commencing Sunday, May 6th, morning masses at St. Patrick's church in Rochelle will be changed from 8 and 10 o'clock to 7 and 9 o'clock.

Rochelle township high school may graduate a class of 67 this June, exceeding by nine the number graduated a year ago. At 10 o'clock time 58 seniors received their diplomas and composed the largest

Living Our Everyday Lives

WHEN DEATH WENT AWAY
(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton.)

Once upon a time, so runs an old legend, men made bitter complaint against Death. They said she is blind, unjust, untimely—taking the sweet babe and letting the blasphemer live. She strikes down the young in the morning of life when their faces are dream-lit and lovely, leaving the old to limp on in weariness.

The Angel of Death, hurt by such foolish and cruel words, spread her great wings and departed from the earth. A great shout of joy went up from the earth. At last man was free to live, untroubled by the menace and mystery of the darkest fear that haunts his days. The earth seemed new and fresh, unshadowed by the ancient terror.

But time passed, bringing many changes in its wake. Those smitten with incurable ills languished on beds of pain, with no hope of release. To the very old the weary weight of years became too heavy to bear. The earth became so crowded that society was a savage scramble, one generation treading on the next. Age was in the way of youth. At last life upon the earth, without Death, became an intolerable woe. It could not be endured. Man-kind gathered in a vast assembly and offered prayer to God to bring back the Angel of Death. The prayer was answered; and Death, touched by the piteous plight of humanity, returned and took up once more her terrible labors.

It is more than a parable; it is a philosophy. No man, if he thinks at all, would have the gift of mortal life save upon the terms of death. What is so universal as death, said Schiller, must be beneficial; and so it is when it comes naturally at the end of life, like the benediction that follows prayer. It is an ordinance of God.

Death, so far from being an enemy of life is its friend and helper. No wonder Whitman sang of soft, soothing Mother Death who, when the day of life is done, rocks us to sleep. But a Greater One than Whitman saw deeper—saw through Death—to the light beyond; saw that Death is but a cloud-shadow wandering across our human valley.

ANNUAL JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET AT POLO MAY 25

While Annual Prom of Two Classes is Set for May 18th.

By Kathryn Keagy

Polo — The Junior-Senior banquet of the Polo Community High School will be held at the school Friday evening, May 25. The annual baccalaureate sermon will be conducted at the high school Sunday evening, May 27. Rev. L. R. Minion, pastor of the First Methodist church will deliver the sermon. A class of 66 students will be graduated on the evening of May 31. Rev. Roland Schloerb of the Hyde Park Baptist church will deliver the graduation address.

A Mother and Daughter banquet sponsored by the Hi-Y class will be held at the school Tuesday evening, May 15. The program will be announced later.

The annual Junior-Senior prom will be held at the school Friday evening, May 18th.

Mrs. Anna McCartney and her daughter, Ida, have been conducting the Hotel Orient the past several years, moved Saturday to the property on North Division Street belonging to the Carpenter estate.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Donaldson attended the funeral of their uncle William Main at Stillman Valley Saturday afternoon. Mr. Main is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Ella Donaldson of Polo. His wife was formerly Miss Louise Jenkins and lived near Polo. He has visited here many times and has many friends in Polo and vicinity who will be grieved to learn of his passing.

A dozen friends of Mrs. Earl R. Scheuler formerly Miss Bertha Gilbert had a miscellaneous shower in her honor at the home of Miss Floris Fouke Friday evening. A weiner roast was enjoyed and the remainder of the evening was spent with music and visiting. Mrs. Scheuler received a number of lovely remembrances.

Following the regular meeting of the Women's Relief Corps Friday evening a surprise was held in honor of the oldest member present, Mrs. Maria Klock, who celebrated her 83rd birthday on May 1st. There were about 40 members present. Mrs. Mayme Enzier, the president in behalf of the members presented Mrs. Klock with a lovely remembrance. Mrs. Klock responded and thanked the guests for the gift. A two course lunch was served and the guest of honor and five of the ladies who had been members for the greatest length of time were seated at one table. A birthday cake with lighted candles

The annual Luther League Rally of the Northern Conference was held at the Lutheran church Friday evening. A short business meeting in charge of the President, Charles Teets of Milledgeville, preceded the meeting. A gathering of 219 sat down to the banquet table. Dr. Edward Scharf of Freeport acted as toastmaster. Dr. I. W. Bingham, acting president of the Carthage College was the principal speaker. Miss Pauline Bomberger led the group in singing and Robert Hedrick sang two solos.

FORMER MAYOR OF EAST PEORIA TO STATE FARM

Representative Pleads Guilty to Embezzlement Monday

Peoria, Ill., May 8—(AP)—State Representative Jesse Hall, mayor until last year of East Peoria, Ill., pleaded guilty Monday to charges of conspiracy to embezzle $35,000 and was sentenced to serve one year at Vandalia state prison farm.

Hall's plea was made before Circuit Judge Joseph E. Bailey. The Tazewell county grand jury returned indictments against him three months ago.

The charge grew out of investigations made by the East Peoria industries located there. Eugene Welcher, formerly secretary of the East Peoria Sanitary District Board, is to go on trial Monday on similar charges.

Hall as mayor of the city was president of the sanitary district board.

State's Attorney Nathan P. Eliff said he would prove, in the case against Welcher, that the two misused sanitary district funds totaling $144,000.

Besides the prison sentence, Judge Bailey fined Hall $1,000.

Fourth Debt Default by France Expected in Official Circles

Paris, May 8—(AP)—The fourth French default on the war debts to the United States is considered certain by high officials who spoke privately of the question Monday.

These officials asserted that no negotiations in regard to the debts "directly or indirectly" have been in progress recently and added that the "situation is more confused than ever."

The French position on the debts, it was reiterated, remains the same as after the overthrow of the government of former Premier Edouard Herriot, who championed payment.

As in the case of Spain, there are in Italy two areas producing quick silver on a commercial scale.

DONNA of the BIG TOP

by BEULAH POYNTER
© 1934 NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DONNA GABRIEL and MADELINE SIDDAI who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are trapeze performers with Renfro's circus. When Madeline's grandfather who is blind asks her to spend a week-end at his farm she persuades Donna to go instead. Donna, pretending to be Madeline, falls in love with BILL SIDDAI, Madeline's cousin.

CON DAVID, animal trainer, is devoted to Donna but she regards him merely as a friend. Madeline loves Con and schemes to win him.

Donna falls from the trapeze and is injured. Madeline wires Bill to come for her and begs Donna to continue the impersonation. Bill takes Donna to the farm to recuperate. MISS PLATON, the housekeeper, is suspicious of the girl.

Donna grows stronger and soon is able to get about in a wheel chair.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XI

NED TRAFFORD was surly and belligerent. Irritable without provocation. Twice Renfro had caught him under the influence of liquor and threatened him with a "notice" if he ever caught him drinking again. But Trafford avoided Madeline and, as the days sped by, her fear of him lessened and gradually died.

Renfro had watched Madeline performing on the trapeze alone and, since business was bad and there was a prospect of Donna's return, he had decided to let Madeline remain in the show as a "single." One Gabriel sister did not make a feature act, but the cut in salary helped a little.

Madeline knew Con's interest in her was due to the fact that he could get news of Donna through her, but his very indifference only spurred Madeline's determination to win him.

During every performance she watched the animal trainer put his "cats" through their paces and she never failed to compliment him on his darning when he left the arena. His white silk shirt clinging to his body and beads of perspiration about his white lips.

"There isn't an act in the world that can equal it, Con!" she would exclaim ecstatically.

He was flattered by these attentions. The sting of Donna's reputation still rankled, though he loved her with all the fervor of his Latin temperament. Con was perfectly aware of Madeline's love for him, as was every one else in the circus.

COMPTON OILER PITCHERS STAR IN FIRST GAME

Chaon and Prestegard Allow Lee Center But Three Hits

(Telegraph Special Service)

Lee Center, May 8—Art Chaon and Prestegard yielded only three hits Sunday afternoon permitting one run to score for Lee Center in the opening game between Compton and this place which marked the beginning of the Green River Valley league schedule. Chaon whiffed 10 batters by the strikeout route and Prestegard, his successor almost equalled this number by fanning nine. The final score was 11 to 1 in favor of the Compton Oilers, who made their introduction to the local crowd by scoring three runs in the first round. Lee Center's lonely score came in the fifth frame. "He's my cousin, not her. Yes, they're going to be married."

Con sat motionless, his face slowly growing whiter and whiter. His hands gripped the arms of his chair and the knuckles stood out in ridges. Then he laughed. "Well, that's that! What do we eat—chop suey or chow mein?"

"You mean you don't care?" Madeline cried hysterically. "You really don't care?"

"No woman is going to ruin my appetite," Con answered.

But Madeline, trembling over the success of her falsehood, noticed that his foot left the table untouched. She suggested that they return to the circus lot before it was really necessary to do so.

Renfro was waiting for them at the dressing tent. "Come over here, Madeline," he said. "I want to talk to you."

THE ever-present fear of receiving a two weeks' notice gripped the girl. She looked appealingly toward Con. "What's the matter, Chief?" the animal trainer asked. "You don't object to Madeline stepping out with me once in a while, do you?"

"Not exactly. But she's the only girl alone in this show and she has to watch where she steps. I've been thinking it over. It's a responsibility—they're talking. I think you're a swell kid, Madeline, but hell, I broke the rule never to have single girls in the show when I kept you on. It's too much trouble and I believe—"

"Listen here," Con caught the other man's coat sleeve. "You mean they're talking about Madeline and me? Well, go tell the lousy gossips we're going to be married."

"Con!"
"And if that doesn't suit them you can get a new animal act—and pronto!"

"Keep your shirt on, Con," Renfro cautioned. "If you and Madeline are engaged and all this is on the level we'll be tickled pink. No one thought either of you were serious, that's all. And you know a girl—"

"Yes, I know. It makes me sick the way nosy-bodies meddle with every one else's business. I thought you had more sense. I've a notion to leave your show anyway and—"

"Now, now, Con!" the manager soothed. "I've got to tell Mom the news. Gosh, she'll be surprised."

As Renfro disappeared into the dressing tent Madeline whirled upon Con.

"Did you mean that? Or did you just say it to save my job?"

"Why shouldn't I mean it? If you'll have me, knowing I don't love you and probably never will, we might make a go of marriage. I swear I'll always be on the level with you."

"Oh, Con," Madeline cried, nestling against the arm that hung limply at his side. "I love you so much I'd marry you even if you wanted to put me right into your cage of cats."

He looked at her, half-startled. "That's an idea! That is an idea. I'll make you part of my act!"

Illini Will Meet Maroons in Chicago

Chicago, May 8.—(AP)—Illinois, leader of the Western conference baseball race, and Chicago were paired up for action here today in the first game of the week.

The Illini had four victories and one defeat, while the Maroons had one victory in three starts. Northwestern will meet Iowa at Iowa City Friday and Saturday, and Ohio State will follow the same program at Michigan. Purdue meet Indiana Friday, and Wisconsin plays at Illinois Saturday.

Sea-Going Superstitions

Hares, pigs, cats, and sometimes horses, dogs and spiders are held by sea-going men to bring bad luck if taken aboard ship, says Gas Logie. Even to mention a four-footed animal while at sea is considered a bad omen by Scottish and English sailors, according to the writer.

GOLF

By Art Krenz

RIGHT ELBOW CLOSE TO BODY IS IRON HINT

Tommy Armour attributes much of his success at iron play to a simple fundamental; that is, keeping the right elbow close to the body. Practicing this should enable the player to hit the ball from the inside.

Should the elbow wander, the right hand immediately will take control of the club and cause it to travel from the outside in, cutting across the ball.

As one nears the green and shots become shorter, the hands must move down the leather. If the hands are not lowered, a crisp shot may pass the green by several yards.

CHOOSING AND CARING FOR WORK HORSES

When choosing work horses one should adhere to the following characteristics:

The head should not be too large but with considerable width between the eyes. The eye should show little white, have a mild expression and be clear and well developed.

The face should be lean; the nostrils large and somewhat open and the muzzle should not be too large but there should be considerable width between the angles of the lower jaw. The ears should be carried erect and be of moderate size. The neck should be long, narrow, well carried and of moderate size.

The shoulders should be well developed and considerably wider than the neck. The elbows should be broad in front tapering, but straight, for too far back it resembles a cow's leg, and if too far forward the horse's knee is sprung. The shin-bone should be flat and wide from front to back. The fetlock should be large and should stand at an angle with the floor of about 45 or 50 degrees. The foot should be full and wide; the chest large; body short or sway backed. The tail should be well developed.

The last rib should come well back. The hips should be wide, muscular, and not drooping too much, the droop should be away from the body. The hind quarters should come close together. They should be thick and muscular; the thigh heavy and tapering downward. The hock should not be broad but should be clean and flat; a short flat cannon is preferable; the fetlock should be strong and not set too far forward. The pastern should be of medium length and the foot not too small. The tail should be muscular at the head and long and bushy.

Another thing to look for is diseases of the bones. Ring bone—located between hoof and fetlock. Splints—located on back part of cannon.

There are at least thirty-five different kinds of diseases, counting foot diseases, muscle tension and skin diseases. Also membrane diseases. Colic causes a loss of many horses each year, especially in the spring rush. It is caused by overheated and fatigued horses gulping down too much cold water. A reliable remedy is 2 tablespoons of baking soda, 2 tablespoons of salt and 2 teaspoons of ginger. Dissolve in one quart warm water, placing in drenching bottle and drench. Exercise the horse often and let him roll if he will.

We have some lovely colored shell paper in White, Pink, Blue, Yellow and Green. Put up in rolls from 10 to 50 cents. B. F. Shaw Printing

W. F. PRIEBE'S WEEKLY LETTER to POULTRY RAISERS

Recently I made a trip through Iowa, Missouri and Kansas where I visited a number of produce houses. On several occasions it happened that they were having a farmers' meeting at the plant in the evening.

They were talking about the production and marketing of poultry and eggs and I was pleased to see so many taking an interest in this important industry. A general discussion was invited and it usually fell to my lot to answer a good many of the questions.

It happened that the places I visited were paying 1 to 2 cents more for brown eggs than they were for white. And the question I was asked most often was, "Why don't we get as much for white eggs as we do for brown?"

Why You Get More for Brown Eggs

My answer was this: Your local produce buyer does not make the price. That is determined by how much the consumers are willing to pay for the eggs.

As you know, on the specialized poultry farms west of the Rockies and along the Atlantic seaboard practically all the eggs produced are white. Egg production is their one business and they take better care of their eggs than we do out here on general farms. And they have larger flocks. So they move their eggs to market faster—usually every day.

As a result their white eggs are better than the ones we produce and they get the cream of the prices offered for white eggs.

There are fewer brown eggs produced and most of them come from the Middle West. And now that we are improving the quality of these eggs, the better class of trade prefers them.

So you get the cream of the prices offered for brown eggs. How long this will be true, no one can say; conditions change from year to year and sometimes fashions in food change almost over night. But at the present time in the Middle West brown eggs generally bring more than white eggs.

And if this is true where you live, it seems to me you are only wise to take advantage of it.

Poultry Prices Higher

The chickens that lay brown shelled eggs are also the ones that make the best eating. That is a point to be taken into consideration too—especially now that poultry prices are headed up again.

Right now you are getting 2 and 3 cents more for your hens than you were a year ago. And I think that you can almost figure on getting that much more for all your poultry from June clear through to next January.

So if it will be a satisfaction to have the kind of chickens that bring the best price when you are ready to sell them.

Sincerely yours,

W. F. PRIEBE

Former Penna. Poultry Expert Talks of Turks

By H. D. MUNROE

Formerly Professor Poultry Extension Penn. State College

The demand for turkey eggs is greater this spring than last. This would indicate that people who did not raise turkey poulters last year are going to try raising them, and also that those that did raise some poulters last year are going to raise even more this spring.

Although the care and management for baby poulters is similar to baby chicks there are a few things that should be considered by any one raising young turkeys. Do not crowd poulters or brood too many in one flock. One hun-dered poulters to a 10x12 brooder house is an ideal flock. The fire in the brooder stove should be started at least forty-eight hours before the poulters are placed in the brooder. A temperature of 90 to 95 degrees at the edge of the hover two inches from the floor, is about right for the first week. Each week thereafter the temperature should be decreased five degrees until 70 degrees is reached. It should then be held at this point until the poulters are well feathered and have learned to roost.

Night crowding or piling is a common complaint where turkeys are brooded artificially. The use of a dim light all night in the brooder house is probably the best method to prevent crowding during the early part of the brooding period. A low perch or roost should be placed near the brooder while the poulters are young and every inducement made for early roosting. Poulters on roost will not crowd.

Great care should be taken during the first few days to see that turkey poulters learn to eat. Place shallow feeders or boxes filled with a reliable turkey starting mash before poulters as soon as they are put in the brooder. Young turkeys do not eat mash as readily as baby chicks and must be taught to eat.

It is very important that young poulters be taught to eat. This can be accomplished by the feeder spending some time with them. Some turkey raisers put a few older poulters in the young flock for a few days as a means of teaching the little poulters to eat.

Another means of teaching all the flock to eat is the use of a moist mash. A moist mash mixed with milk and composed of ground alfalfa and turkey mash should be started the first few days the poulters are in the brooder. Some feeders grind green alfalfa in a food chopper and sprinkle it over the mash as a means of teaching poulters to eat.

Many little turkeys starve to death the first week they are under the brooder stove and it is up to the feeder to prevent this by seeing to it that they all learn to eat during the first few days in the brooder.

SALES OF FARM LANDS INCREASE IN MANY STATES

Better Prices Are Noted in Many Localities
Survey Indicates

(Editor's Note:—The Associated Press asked land dealers and bankers in American farming states for opinions and figures on the price and present market for land. What they reported is summarized in the following survey.)

By ROBERT M. YODER

Associated Press Staff Writer

Chicago, May 8.—(AP)—If the squire didn't get it, the old homestead may be safer now, for real estate dealers who handle corn land, wheat land, ranches and orchards find the market stirring.

In many states, recent sales have recorded prices considerably higher than in 1933, and in many others, where there is little price increase, there are more buyers interested in putting cash into what used to be considered the soundest of all investments—a "good farm."

Generally dealers reported where crop prices are up, land prices are up. But many other factors enter, including what the buyer thinks the control will be about.

and what he thinks a general will do.

Nebraska's Report

April land prices in Nebraska, said C. J. Aldrich of the state Banking Department, were the best in five years. Texas farms are selling for 23 per cent above 1933, said A. C. Williams, Federal credit agent.

For the first time since the tremendous slide of values in 1931 and '31, land in Colorado, New Mexico, and Oklahoma is bringing "more than the mortgage," said the Wichita land bank.

Federal credit has stopped "distress sales" of central Illinois corn land, said A. J. Surratt, Agricultural Statistician. The Federal credit agency, the Farm Credit Administration, reported land moving faster in South Carolina, Kentucky, Washington, Oregon and Minnesota.

On Other Side

On the other side, Idaho dealers said irrigated land there was selling on a dull market for $40 to $50 an acre, the price it brought before it was improved.

Dealers in the northwest, however, noted that city dwellers were showing interest in farms, and the Omaha Land Bank said farmers were back as farm customers. Ward Newcomb of the Spokane Federal Land Bank said western range land was higher, due to better prices for wool and lambs.

Small farms of from 40 to 50 acres are selling best in Indiana, dealers there said. There is a similar demand in California, said Edward Rainey, Superintendent of Banks, but it runs to farms of any size with living quarters.

Who's the Goat?

A city man in Mississippi got a job of appraiser for a Federal loan organization. Knowing nothing of farms and rural life, he got all the literature he could get about agriculture and craved day and night, like a college boy preparing for examinations.

When he went out to make his first inspection, the first animal he ran into was a silly goat. He tried hard to recall the description of farm animals printed in the books of agriculture, but could not classify the species. The goat simply did not fit in.

Ashamed to display his ignorance

Firestone

LEADERSHIP

"The Ultimate Test of Leadership is Performance"

FIRESTONE has maintained its leadership in tire development by producing a new tire for 1934 with a wider tread, flatter contour, deeper non-skid, greater thickness, and more and tougher rubber, which gives greater non-skid safety, more traction, greater blowout protection, and more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

These achievements are made practical by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, providing greater adhesion between the plies of the high stretch cords and between the Gum-Dipped body of the tire and the tough, massive non-skid tread. It also provides greater strength, longer flexing life, and greater protection against blowouts.

Gum-Dipping made it possible for Firestone to design, develop and put on the market the first successful balloon tire in 1923. This tire was the pattern used by all others and completely revolutionized the tire industry and set new standards for the automobile industry.

Firestone also developed the first all-rubber non-skid tire, and has always been first to give motorists the benefits of new discoveries in non-skid design, providing more traction and greater non-skid safety.

For fourteen years leading race drivers have driven to victory on Firestone tires, built with Gum-Dipped high stretch cords. They have trusted their lives to Firestone Leadership—as they know that the patented Firestone construction features provide them with greater safety—longer mileage—and greater blowout protection.

Protect yourself and family by driving in today and replacing your smooth, thin, dangerous tires with the new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934.

MORE THAN 50% MORE
NON-SKID MILEAGE

Firestone Tires are TRACK TESTED on the greatest proving ground in the world—they have won this classic for fourteen consecutive years.

Firestone Tires are ROAD TESTED on the large fleet of Firestone test cars, day and night every day in the year, over all kinds of roads and highways.

a friend, giving a description of the animal and asking what it might be.

"He had large, sad eyes, a strangely long beard, rough and unkempt hair, and his behind was bare," the appraiser explained. "Shucks, man, that wasn't an animal!" his friend shouted back. "That was the farmer who applied for the loan."

You may ask the question. What does a goat have to do with Growing Mash? Just this one thing. You can have a good story, a good idea or a good product, but if the world does not know about it, they will not appreciate it.

One of the accepted ways of telling the world about a good feed is through your local newspaper.

Remember, after all is said and done, it is much better to sell your feeders on a complete feeding program rather than just one feed.

You know from experience that feeders may buy good chicks and may feed them good Chick Starter; but if the chicks are not fed properly during the summer months and do not develop uniformly so that they produce eggs early in the fall, these feeders many times blame the starter for their poor results.

Furthermore, there is every reason why you should recommend a sound feeding program for your feeders. We do not predict, but certainly it is desirable to consider facts and arrange a program accordingly. Let's consider these facts.

Government figures show that 10 per cent fewer chicks have been hatched this year than a year ago. This is due to the late season, code and other factors.

Egg receipts this year are the smallest in 13 years with the exception of one year. This in the face of a 17,000,000 increase in population.

Storage holdings of shell eggs

April 1 amounted to 1,207,000 cases, compared with 1,833,000 a year ago.

A poll made of rural editors by the County Home Magazine indicates definite improvement all over the United States.

All these facts lead us to believe that poultry prices will be favorable next fall. And it is for these reasons that poultrymen should have a sound summer feeding program that will assure them early fall layers when egg prices are high.

Visible Grain

New York, May 8.—(AP)—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes in bushels: Wheat decreased 2,438,000; corn decreased 2,436,000; oats decreased 1,872,000; rye decreased 1,872,000; rye decreased 291,000; barley decreased 180,000.
